A DESIGNS DIRECT PUBLICATION | PLANS FOR EVERY HOME

What's your Style?

There are lots of different ways to classify homes. You can define them by square footage, by number of stories, by number of bedrooms. All those things are important. Crucial, in fact, to making a decision about the home you're going to build and live in.

One of the more aesthetic classification methods is by the "style" of the home... the set of historical influences the designer drew upon in designing the façade. The arrangement and proportions of gables and dormers and window styles and exterior materials all work together to give the home the look and feel that draw you in from the street (or don't)!

For purposes of organizing this issue, we're necessarily a little broad in our classifications. "European" can contain many different and varied sub-styles, from a Mediterranean villa to an English Cottage. And a home can contain both Craftsman and Farmhouse elements.

Still, you have to start somewhere. So, we've divided this collection of some of our best designs into three broad categories. We hope you find it a useful way to zero in on...or even figure out... what your style is.

If your style is just a little different than what you see here, we can fix that. Maybe you like the look of that Farmhouse, but would rather clad it with brick. We have a full team of Modification experts ready to make that change, or more substantive changes to make sure the home fits both your "style" and your needs. Give us a call to discuss. And visit www.DesignerDreamHomes.net too search our full portfolio of home designs.
