Home Town's Newest Viking Kitchen in House Beautiful!

The April issue of House Beautiful features a jaw-dropping renovation project from the HGTV Home Town team in Laurel, Mississippi. Ben and Erin Napier, renovation geniuses and beloved Laurel locals, took on a crumbling house from the 1900s and transformed it into a stunning home. The home's gorgeous new Viking kitchen includes a 3 Series French Door refrigerator, dishwasher, and microwave, but the star of the show was the kitchen's centerpiece - a Viking 3 Series 30-inch Dual Fuel Range!

In a remarkable revelation to House Beautiful, Erin Napier divulges that the 2023 Pacific Gray range is also a perfect complement to the home's Victorian architecture. She explains, "historic appliances were typically enameled, so our Viking range is a nod to that." We agree that Ben and Erin designed a kitchen that is the perfect blend of classic and modern, just like the rest of the renovation.

The Home Town project isn't just about aesthetics. It is all about bringing a family together and creating a space where they can connect with each other and with their community. What better place to do that than in a stunning kitchen? The Viking range will undoubtedly be the heart of their home, where they'll gather, cook, and make memories for years to come.

We are so excited that the Home Town team chose Viking for this project and for the shoutout they gave us in House Beautiful, one of the leading luxury home publications in America. Ben, Erin, and the Home Town team are shining a spotlight on all things Mississippi Made and American Made, and it's a pleasure to be included in so many of their recent projects.
